

THIS IS YOUR TRIAL

Guilty! or Innocent?
YOU decide

What is it? This Is Your Trial is an award-winning, improvised comedy format show, deriving its success from audience interaction. They submit accusations of 'crimes' committed against each other at work or otherwise.

Comedians, as lawyers, argue a selection of cases, cross-examining the accusers and the accused. After hearing the hilarious arguments, everyone is the jury, cheering their verdict of guilt or innocence.

No two trials are ever the same.
But they are always funny, irreverent and original.

Why book us? Working practices have changed. People miss social interactions with colleagues and friends. We create events where they will laugh and share a unique and unforgettable experience.

Our Experience

This Is Your Laugh has supplied many clients over the last ten years with Xmas parties, away-day activities, annual conferences and networking events.

We really know how to bring colleagues and customers together.

How?

- We entertain groups of any number between 12 and 500.
- Shows are typically an hour long, but are always adaptable.
- We come to you or source a venue wherever you need it.

Example cases:

Workplace hierarchies were suspended for an evening, when 'Simon in accounts' called out his manager for "constantly muting herself in Zoom meetings."

Found guilty of the act of 'sabotage through self-silencing', manager Lilian was sentenced to be court artist, for the next case.

FAQs

This must be expensive?

You'll be surprised. You know your budget. We know our rates are competitive. Let's speak.

What if someone feels picked-on?

It is essential people are willingly involved. Otherwise it's just not good comedy. Our preparation ensures a celebration of all participants and the culture of the company.

How do you do this?

Accusations are gathered before the show, providing a filter to spot possible issues. Our performers are deft and sensitive to the dynamics of your company and your guests.

But will everyone enjoy it?

It's impossible to cater for each individual sense of humour, especially when trying to book a line-up of stand-up acts. Our show is purely about the audience. The format has found the sweet spot that does entertain everyone. Every time.

Creative Director - David Allison

07811 162095

dave@thisisyourlaugh.co.uk

www.thisisyourlaugh.co.uk /

www.thisisyourtrial.com

What the press say

"Priceless improvised observations."  (MIRROR)

"A genuinely inventive, intelligent, comedy creation."  (SCOTSMAN)

"Freewheelin' show for anyone and everyone."  (WEST AUSTRALIAN)

What our clients say

"...some said it was the best Xmas party they'd ever been to. They took time to investigate the funny stories, even demographics of our workforce putting together a personalised show that had everyone in stitches, winning over even the most sceptical of our team."

Carly Wood, Office Manager

- Skimlinks

"...they only went and blew the bloody doors off!"

Paul Sampson, Vice President

- Cuesongs

"We've never had an event like it in terms of originality, laughter and employee engagement. The Trial team expertly curated something fitting our company ethos with a smart, witty show. They even put Priya, my team leader, on trial for her fashion crimes - for which she was sent down! We're still talking about it now."

Ted Truscott, Social Manager

- Facebook